The Taconic Hills Community feels that instilling positive character traits in our children is very important. What is Character Education? Character education involves teaching children about basic values including honesty, kindness, generosity, courage, freedom, equality, and respect.

The goal is to raise children to become morally responsible, self-disciplined citizens. Problem solving, decision making, and conflict resolution are important parts of developing moral character. Through role playing and discussions, students can see that their decisions affect other people and things. We know that children do not develop social values in a vacuum. Educators, community members, and parents are working together to promote positive behavior among our children.

Everything about a school can teach values and foster students' sense of personal and social responsibility.
